SCIENCE ACADEMY

Science Academy on November 9th was a big hit! Andrea Howard, an animal scientist and environmental educator from the Brazos Valley Natural History Museum, was the presenter. She taught the children about reptiles and what makes them unique, with the highlight being a box turtle and corn snake she had brought along. She even allowed the children to touch it! She also brought along a very cute hedgehog, a mammal, which was enjoyed by all!

The rest of the newsletter contains the Honor Roll Lists which is in the print version only!

Have a Happy Thanksgiving!
